

WHY JOIN SPS?

SPS is the best thing for your career since choosing to study physics.

$24 annual dues

Membership dues are $30.00 per year for addresses outside of the US and Canada. The additional dues cover international shipping for The SPS Observer; members outside of the US and Canada will receive Physics Today in online format.

membership.spsnational.org

Membership Benefits

- 1 Free membership in two AIP Member Societies for up to three years (undergraduates only)
- 2 Free joint membership in the National Society of Black Physicists (NSBP) or the National Society of Hispanic Physicists (NSHP)
- 3 The SPS Observer: (fall, winter, and spring issues) magazine for undergrad physics and astronomy majors
- 4 Physics Today: A monthly award-winning publication
- 5 Journal of Undergraduate Reports in Physics (JURP): An annual publication of scholarly reports by SPS undergraduate members
- 6 Eligibility to apply for a variety of SPS internships, scholarships, and other awards
- 7 Research and travel grants to attend regional and national meetings
- 8 Opportunity to attend PhysCon - largest undergraduate conference for physics and astronomy majors
- 9 SPS News eNewsletter (bi-weekly) – Features upcoming meetings, awards, scholarships and jobs
- 10 Careers Toolbox for Physics Students
- 11 Access to GradShoolShopper
- 12 Professional development opportunities
- 14 Connection to undergraduate-specific regional conferences and meetings
- 15 Opportunity to run for the SPS National Council and serve on SPS committees
- 16 Participation in advocacy events on Capitol Hill
- 17 Physics demonstration ideas and access to free outreach kits (SOCKs)
- 18 Access to diversity and inclusion resources and best practices for your chapter
- 19 Support the Physics community through outreach and community service events

1 Physics Ellipse
College Park, MD 20740
Tel: +1 301-209-3007
Email: sps@aip.org

AIP
American Institute of Physics

